Happy New Year!

Well, I'm sure if you haven't already done it, you're going to be putting away your Christmas decorations and starting to think about beginning yet another year. 2012 is just around the corner and if you're like me, you would probably consider yourself not quite ready. You're probably more ready than you think.

Most of us enter a new year with some decisions to make. We make decisions to be more disciplined in areas of our lives. We plan to lose weight, pay off debt, read the Bible, serve the Lord, and the list goes on. I would encourage all of you to make some decisions like these. I recommend that you set your goals more realistic so you don't set yourself up for failure. I also suggest that you set goals that challenge you enough to make you grow. It would be a good goal for us all to say we want to be better at the end of 2012 than we are at the end of 2011.

I wish all of you the very best of God's blessings in 2012. Remember, "Eye has not seen, nor ear heard, neither has entered into the heart of man the things God has prepared for those who love Him." I look forward to worshipping and serving God with all of you. I anticipate a greater year for The Harvest Fellowship than we've ever seen. I hope you will all start 2012 in church at The Harvest and get started off right in God's House with God's People.

Love in Christ,

Pastor CW
